

Burma Studies Conference, Singapore, July 2006

New books on Burma/Myanmar from NIAS Press

Exploring Ethnic Diversity in Burma

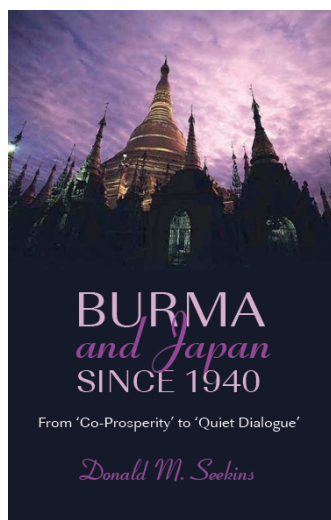

Edited by Mikael Gravers

- ✓ Goes beyond the image of human rights abuses in Burma to probe the country's many ethnic and religious conflicts.
- ✓ The most comprehensive and detailed study ever of huge variety of ethnic groups living in Burma.
- ✓ An important contribution to the study of formation of ethnic identity, boundaries and space.

While the image of modern Myanmar/Burma tends to be couched in terms of politics and human rights, in reality as well there are several conflicts with ethnic and religious dimensions. In what is probably the most comprehensive study of Burma's ethnic minorities to date, this volume discusses the historical formation of ethnic identity and its complexities in relation to British colonial rule as well as to the modern State, the present situation of military rule and its policy of 'myanmari-fication'. Changes of identity in exile and due to religious conversion are analysed and discussed. Finally, the book probes into this complexity and diversity and it provides more details and up-to-date information than previously collected in one volume.

NIAS Studies in Asian Topics, 39
September 2006, 304 pp., illus.
Pbk • 87-91114-96-9 • £16.99, $35

CONFERENCE PRICE S$40

Burma and Japan Since 1940

From 'Co-Prosperity' to 'Quiet Dialogue'

Donald M. Seekins

- ✓ Traces the influences of Japan on modern Burma, not least the military (formed during the Japanese occupation).
- ✓ Describes ongoing Japanese involvement with what is seen in some quarters as a pariah state.
- ✓ Analyses the ambiguities of Japan's policy of 'quiet dialogue' in an international climate that asserts the spread of democratization and human rights.

This volume traces Burma-Japan relations since 1940, i.e from the time of the Japanese occupation, through the years up to 1988 during which the Japanese government gave massive amounts of development aid to Burma, and hence to the present day when Japan continues to pursue a policy of 'quiet dialogue'. As such, this volume will be of value not only for an understanding of post-war Japanese diplomacy and aid programmes, but also because it offers new material and insights on the ongoing story of Burma itself.

NIAS Monographs, 106
September 2006, 224 pp., illus.
Hbk • 87-91114-98-5 • £40, $67

CONFERENCE PRICE S$80

 NIASPRESS

Nordic Institute of Asian Studies
Leifsgade 33, DK-2300
Copenhagen S, Denmark
Tel: (+45) 3532 9503
Fax: 3532 9549
Orders: books@nias.ku.dk
Web: www.niaspress.dk

How to order these books

All NIAS books can be ordered via any bookseller. But, to qualify for the Burma Studies conference discount, these books need to be ordered from NIAS directly (see opposite).